I. Course description

Calendar Course Description

Ethical and political issues in medicine, public health, biotechnology, and the life sciences. Topics may include reproductive ethics, research on human subjects, animal research and treatment, justice and health care, physician-patient relationships, death and the end of life, and genetic engineering.

Course Description

This course will introduce you to key contemporary questions in bioethics. To do so, we will first look over the classical concepts and principles used in bioethics (e.g., autonomy, paternalism, personhood, informed consent, and consequentialism). We will use these conceptual tools to analyze important debates, including medical assistance in dying (Maid) or reproductive ethics. We will also cover the questions of gender-affirming care and the social determinants of health. This course contains a Canadian perspective: we will contextualize these questions in the society we live in. You will develop the tools to read and communicate across disciplines, and to evaluate conflicting positions on complex issues in bioethics.

II. Learning Outcomes

At the end of this class, you will (1) identify and describe key concepts and theories in bioethics, (2) engage with debates and disagreements in the field, (3) articulate your thoughts on these key debates, (4) critically apply the theories seen in the class in order to understand important questions in bioethics.

III. Texts

Required Textbook: Miles, J.K. (2023). Practical Bioethics: Ethics for Patients and Providers. Broadview Press. ISBN: 9781554813711 / 1554813719 (PB in schedule)

The required textbook will be available at Haven books at 43 Seneca Street. You can either buy the eBook version or a paperback copy.

The rest of the required readings will be electronically available on the course website.

V. Evaluation

Students will be assessed on components: (1) two case study commentaries, (2) quizzes, (3) participation grade, and (4) final exam. See them in more detail below. Their descriptions will be posted to Brightspace.

- Two case study commentaries (25% of final grade; 10% for the first (due on week 7) and 15% for the second (due on week 11): Three or four pages, double-spaced essay, note that I do not expect you to do research outside of the source materials for this assignment (you will not be penalized if you do).
- Short quizzes (30% of final grade): Every week, you will be required to complete an online quiz composed of multiple-choice and true/false questions on Brightspace. A total of 12 quizzes will be available. I will drop the two lowest scores, and only 10 quizzes will be included for your final grade (each quiz will be worth up to 3% of your final grade).
- Participation grade (10% of final grade): Your presence in class is essential. I will not formally take attendance every class. However, thorough the term, I will randomly distribute 12 in-class (individual or collective) short assignments worth 1% each with a pass/fail grade. You are allowed to miss two of these short assignments without providing a reason. Unless you have a documented illness or emergency, I will not accept any late assignment. Please make sure to bring a piece of paper, a pen/pencil, and an electronic device (e.g., phone, a computer, or a tablet) to each class; if either of these is not possible for you, let me know beforehand.
- Final exam (35% of final grade): The cumulative exam will include short answer questions and a long essay, similar to the two short essays you have written, where you will analyse a case study. This will take place during the exam period.

VI. Course Policies (Including late work)

Unless other arrangements are made, in advance and in writing, with the course instructor, essays sent after the due date will be penalized by 5% for the first day they are late and then 2% for every subsequent day (including weekends), unless accompanied by documented evidence of a family emergency or illness.

All assignments should be submitted to me through the Brightspace submission dropbox. Please, submit a file in Word or Rich Text Format (no .pdf files please).

If you email me, use your Carleton email address, and write the course code (PHIL2408) in the subject line. If you haven't received a response within 48 hours (excluding weekends), feel free to send me a quick follow up email.

VII. Statement on Plagiarism

Generative artificial intelligence (AI) tools (CHATGPT, ETC.)

We would discuss this more in class together, but I would encourage you to refrain yourself for using these tools for your work submitted for this class. I want to be able to hear your distinctive voice when I read your essay and these tools will not reproduce your voice.

Using AI tools to generate content for assignments, and presenting it as one's own original work, as well as copying or paraphrasing the content produced by AI tools without proper citations or the instructor's consent, are both considered to be in violation of academic integrity.

PLAGIARISM

The University Academic Integrity Policy defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentionally or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one's own.” This includes reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else's published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one's own without proper citation or reference to the original source. Examples of sources from which the ideas, expressions of ideas or works of others may be drawn from include but are not limited to: books, articles, papers, literary compositions and phrases, performance compositions, chemical compounds, artworks, laboratory reports, research results, calculations and the results of calculations, diagrams, constructions, computer reports, computer code/software, material on the internet and/or conversations.

Examples of plagiarism include, but are not limited to:

- any submission prepared in whole or in part, by someone else;
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, paraphrased material, algorithms, formulae, scientific or mathematical concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment; using another's data or research findings without appropriate acknowledgement;
- submitting a computer program developed in whole or in part by someone else, with or without modifications, as one's own; and
- failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another's work and/or failing to use quotations marks.

Plagiarism is a serious offence that cannot be resolved directly by the course's instructor. The Associate Dean of the Faculty conducts a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They can include a final grade of “F” for the course.

Department of Philosophy and Carleton University Policies (Fall/Winter 2023-24)

Assignments:

Please follow your professor's instructions on how assignments will be handled electronically. There will be NO hard copies placed in the essay box this coming year.

Evaluation:

Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Faculty Dean. This means that grades submitted by the instructor may be subject to revision. No grades are final until they have been approved by the Dean.

Deferrals for Term Work:

If students are unable to complete term work because of illness or other circumstances beyond their control, they should contact their course instructor no later than three working days of the due date. Normally, any deferred term work will be completed by the last day of the term. Term work cannot be deferred by the Registrar.

Deferrals for Final Exams:

Students are expected to be available for the duration of a course including the examination period. Occasionally, students encounter circumstances beyond their control where they may not be able to write a final examination or submit a take-home examination. Examples of this would be a serious illness or the death of a family member. If you miss a final examination and/or fail to submit a take-home examination by the due date, you may apply for a deferral no later than three working days after the original due date (as per the University Regulations in Section 4.3 of the Undergraduate Calendar). Visit the Registrar's Office for further information.

Plagiarism:

It is the responsibility of each student to understand the meaning of 'plagiarism' as defined in the Undergraduate or Graduate Calendars, and to avoid both committing plagiarism and aiding or abetting plagiarism by other students. (Section 10.1 of the Undergraduate Calendar Academic Regulations)

Academic Accommodation:

You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term:

- Pregnancy or religious obligation: write to your professor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details visit the EDC website.
- Academic accommodations for students with disabilities: The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation.

If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class test or exam requiring accommodation. After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with your professor to ensure accommodation arrangements are made.

- Survivors of Sexual Violence: As a community, Carleton University is committed to maintaining a positive learning, working and living environment where sexual violence will not be tolerated, and where survivors are supported through academic accommodations as per Carleton's Sexual Violence Policy.
- Accommodation for Student Activities: Carleton University recognizes the substantial benefits, both to the individual student and for the university, that result from a student participating in activities beyond the classroom experience. Reasonable accommodation must be provided to students who compete or perform at the national or international level. Please contact your instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist.
